PROCEEDINGS OF COURTS YESTERDAY WAS A DULL DAY AT THE COUNTY CAPITOL. CLIMATE MAKES NO DIFFERENCE

Business in the County Clerk's Office, Though, Was Quite Brisk-Another Railroad Damage Suit.

The week opened up rather dull in the various courts of the county yesterday, there being very little lensiness of more than passing interest in either of the tribunals. The county clerk's office, how ever, experienced an exceptionally lively day, the office being crowded both in the morning and afternoon with people fling instruments to be recorded.

A suit for $15,000 damages was enter ed in the civil district courts by Charles Smith against the New York, Texas and Mexican Railway company. The plaintiff alleges that he received serious and per-manent personal injuries on June 29, 1980, while in the employ of the road, working on the bridge across the Colorado river, near Wharton,

If this be continued all the other saloons will be compelled to open also. The writer of this is well satisfied with the hours of closing, to wit: Between the hours of p a, m, and 4 p, m. It gives him, as well as his employes, a few hours of needed rest on Sunday, and we are, in fact, not a cent the loser. MT. VERNON STILL INCORPORATED. But There is Trouble in Securing a Government.

Mount Vernon, Texas, May 18 .- In que varianto proceedings in district court today to dissolve the incorporation of this town, incorporation was dissolved.

It was contended and shown by the relaters that the town was incorporated about forty years ago, which incorporation had never been abelished, and that there-and never bean abullshed, and that therefore the county judge, who ordered an election for the purpose of incorporation, and so without authority, and that the mayor, under the old incorporation, or three of the aldermen, could call such election.

The court agreed with the relators, and of course dissolved the incorporation.

It is said that efforts will be made to find the major under the old incorporation, if still living and get him to call an election for officers.

Court adjourned today, the time having expired for the form, The grand lany turned into court seventy-six indictionats, only four of which were felonics. These were only two felony convictions, as follows: J. B. Saider, charged with bigainy, two years in the penifentiary: Ebb Harris, forgery, two years in the penifentiary.

The criminal docket was lighter than usual, and the civil docket heavier. Many cases went over for want of time to try.

FIGHT ON THE BOLL WEEVIL.

Mally Says That the Farmers Will Win If They Work. Brenham, Texas, May 20. - Prof. Fred W. Maily. State entymologist, passed through the city at neon Monday en route for Giddings, where he addressed the farmers in the afternoon on means for eradicating the boll weevil. "I had a big meeting at Fayettville yesterday," Mr. Mally remark od to a reporter. "If the farmers will just keep up the lick the holl weevil will soon he no more feared than the leaf worm. All they have to do is to use the means at hand and get over being discouraged. "I wish you would correct a mistake that has crept into the columns of the papers in regard to there being weevil at Sherman. There are no holl weevil porth of McLeuman county. My trips to North Texas have been to deal with the wheat bug, and that matter is now well in hand, although the remedy came too late to prevent many wheat folds being ploughed up and planted in cotton."

Mr. Mally will be in Brehhem again Thorsday, at which time he will give directlous concerning the operation of the Aspiawall aprayer. Fayettville yesterday," Mr. Mally cemark-

A Paying Black Land Crop. McKinney, Texas, May 19 .- Perhaps one of the best paying crops this year to the farmers of Collin county will be alfalfa, which is not being cut for the first time. It readly lengs $10 per ton on the market where it is bought as a substitute for corn by many. The average yield is about a ton per acre each crop, and three crops can be produced off the same land each year. The acreage is largely increased this rear. Its hay producing and pasturage qualities are giving alfalfa an increasing popularity among farmers of the black land belt.

New Judge for Williamson County. Georgetown, Texas, May 20.-District Judge R. E. Brooks of the Twenty-sixth judicial district on Saturday tendered his resignation of the judgehip to the governor. It was accepted and County Judge R. L. Penn was appointed to fill out his unexpired term. The commissioners court mothis morning and accepted the judge's resignation and manimously appointed C. A. Wilcox of Georgetown to be county judge of Williamson county. Both of the above appointments meet with the hearty approval of the entire county.
